“ I am one of the founders of Wire of Hope Prison Pen Pal Program and had been in touch with Gabriel for many years. He was always so kind and polite in each letter he sent us. We were so proud to help him connect with people on the outside, as he was also an activist for prisoner rights himself. We hope he found freedom and peace. Our thoughts are with his loved ones, his family, his friends, and his penpals. He will be missed.

“ The question often posed to me: Mama Dee, What's My Name? His reply; I'm Mr. Gabriel George Saunders, Sr. Prisoner Rights Litigator, Son of God! You fought a good fight, NOW, YOU are SAFE in HIS ARMS. WE shared a Bond that can never be broken, not as your STEP MOM, but the MOM that STEPPED UP for YOU!! You are forever always, always in my heart. I Love You, Son! REST WELL.

“ Gabriel was a true friend. I admired his compassion, his integrity, his resilience in the face of real struggle, his desire to help and do good, his talents ("I can fix anything if I look at it long enough!"), and his humor. He called me Sunny, because he said I was always so positive, but that's what he was for me. No matter what he was going through, he made time to let me know he cared when I said I was sad or worried about something. When my dad died suddenly in 2022, Gabriel made sure I didn't feel alone in my grief. He even sent me a birthday card for my dad on that first difficult birthday after. And he sent me two birthday cards when he heard many of my friends had forgotten my 48th! Around that time he started calling me little sister. He made me laugh, he made me believe in myself, and he told me straight when I messed up! That's a real friend. He never focused on our differences, but on what we had in common. That was a good lesson for life. He had his hard times, but I believe I mostly experienced Gabriel at his very best. And that has made me a better human. I was privileged to know him, but I wanted to know him for many more years. He is already deeply missed. There is much more I could say about Gabriel, but I will close with extending my deepest sympathy to all of you that knew and loved him also. Rest in Peace, big brother - Love, Sunny.
