“ My husband grew up with Wallace Warren Bishop (we called him "Bishop"). They grew up together in the church in South Dallas. Their parents we besties. Bishop, Sam, R.L. and other guys from church used to go to the Dallas Cowboys games after attending church when they were teenagers.

I knew Bishop via my husband. I have known him for 50+ years. Although we didn't talk often, he knew I would ask about him and when we talked, it would be very long conversations about life in general. Bishop would call my husband almost everyday until he was too ill to call him. Rest In Peace Bishop. You are now with your mom and dad.
