“ My condolences to the family of Yasmin. She and I attended school together (middle & high school). My fondest memory of Yasmin is that she was always able to catch on to "short hand writing" really fast and as I sat next to her and admired that quality along with her beautiful and neat handwriting, I often wondered how she did it. Yasmin, although we didn't talk much after high school we were friends on social media. My God provide the McGee family all the strength needed to get through this trying time. You all are in my prayers. Tammy Tucker-Salmond, Class of 1985, Dallas Business & Management Center.
